

Worldline and Ingenico to synchronize their first semester 2020 results releases

Worldline to publish H1 2020 results on July 23rd, 2020

Bezons, June 16th, 2020

In order to align its financial communication calendar with the one of Ingenico and ensure a synchronized financial communication between the two companies as done for the first quarter, the publication of Worldline results for the first semester of 2020 will be held on July 23rd, 2020 at 8.00am CET, instead of July 21st, 2020 as initially announced.

This synchronization takes place as part of the exemplary cooperation between the two groups to finalize the strategic friendly acquisition project of Ingenico announced on February 3rd 2020, for which it is reminded that an outstanding support was received from Worldline's shareholders during the Annual General Meeting held on June 9th, 2020, and which continues to progress positively and fully in line with the objective to close the transaction during the third quarter of 2020.
